Passionate about music education

Since our early beginnings in 2010 we've had a keen interest in sheet music for developing players and providing exciting and beautiful repertoire to inspire instrumentalists as they explore on their journey. Some of our books included grade categories (e.g our 40 Graded Duets books) and some offer guided opportunities for easy, yet creative improvisation from day one (our First Steps beginner books for example), whilst others offer a choice of difficulty levels for the same piece (our Groove Zones books includes Street, Town, and City options for the five pieces in the collection for example).

Big supporters of social music making

For the past few years (breaking for Covid times asides) we've been running an amateur wind ensemble group with much success. It's heart warming to see students chatting, exchanging tips, and making music (or sometimes a racket!) in a relaxed and supportive environment.

Crackers about Christmas

Our Christmas sheet music books prove immensely popular each year and we're finding that customers keep coming back for more. Our Christmas Jazz books, volumes 1,2,3 are hugely liked and bring a new twist to many loved Christmas carols, and our Christmas duets and trios are enjoyed by many small groups. Whilst other publishers often shy away from investing in producing more Christmas repertoire, we're committed to expanding ours. Watch this space...
